AUTOMATIC GENERATOR START

According to product literature, the Energy Command AutoStart (EC-30W) from Cummins Power Generation is the first generator auto-start system specifically designed for RV owners to install themselves. It works on most Cummins Onan gas, diesel, and LP generators.

The EC-30W is a wireless system that includes a handheld transmitter and a receiver that connects to the generator. Once the device has been installed, the user can remotely start and stop the generator from up to 100 feet away. It automatically starts the generator should the batteries become low or if the temperature inside the motorhome becomes too hot, but it will not start the generator if shore power is detected. The rechargeable remote also displays a generator hour meter, maintenance reminders, and diagnostic text messages for easy troubleshooting.

The EC-30W has a manufacturer's suggested retail price of $499.
